Our Town

A recent proposed bill in a state legislature would have made it unlawful to teach in a public school "any theory or doctrine contrary to the teaching of the Bible." Luckily for teachers, students, legislators, courts and judges, the act failed to become law. For who is wise enough to decide what is "contrary to the teaching of the Bible?" Doctors of divinity cannot agree. Churches cannot agree. Students cannot agree. The wisest men of all ages have disagreed as to the interpretation of many portions of the Bible. To give to any man, or any set of men, the legal power to say "this is contrary to the teaching of the Bible, but that is in accord with the teaching of the Bible," is to hamper free thought, and put in the hands of the few, the right to dictate the religious belief of the many. This nation was founded upon toleration of religious belief. The right to worship God as one pleases is an inherent American right. The man who believes it is against the teachings of the Bible to pick a flower on Sunday has as much a right to his opinion as has the woman who thinks flowers were made to pick and sends her babies into the country on the Lord's day to enjoy His jewels. The man who believes that some of the teachings of modern science are contrary to Biblical revelation has as much right to his opinion as has the scientist who finds no conflict between the Great Book and the "books in the running brooks, sermons in stones and good in everything" which his laboratory teaches him. Through discussion, talk, the printed word, teaching, and argument, man struggles through ignorance and darkness to truth and light. What is sunshine for one man is darkness for another, and each believes he is right. The forefathers of this nation decided in their wisdom that, so far as the law was concerned, both are right. Any attempt to take away that liberty of thought, to interpret the Bible or any religious belief, by law, for any one, is an encroachment upon the inalienable rights of American citizens, and should be resisted stoutly by all who have the cause of true religion, true knowledge and true freedom at heart.

Last Sunday the churches in Cameron enrolled for attendance at the Sunday school hour 1543. The goal had been set at 1500 and the fact that this goal was reached and exceeded gives reason for great responsibility for the churches. When 1500 people go into the church houses on Sunday morning to hear the Bible taught it is time for the churches to awaken to their opportunities because in the enlightened Christian citizenship we read a greater destiny for America. The churches are counting on a large attendance next Sunday. They believe the response to the Sunday school movement is no temporary matter of enthusiasm but a deep rooted desire on the part of the people to profit by these associations and be taught the Holy Bible. And what greater thing could we desire for our town?

As an indication of his sincerity when he said McAdoo was unavailable and had the money of corruption in his pocket Governor Neff should not evidence any desire to go as a delegate to the National Democratic convention in New York. But if he should seek election as a delegate he should not be permitted to go and we trust that the indignant and outraged democracy of the state will not permit him to go as a delegate. Ferguson and Neff will not mix to advantage as a good beverage for the Democtracy of Teras.

A significant indication of "strange politics" is shown in the returns from the Presidential preferential primary Saturday when practically every anti-prohibition box in the county went for Neff's program and many prohibition boxes went against the program. In addition to being out of harmony with the Democracy of Texas the county political elements seem to have done many things unusual, unsuspected and certain unwillingly.

DAVIS ANSWERS QUEERY ON LIQUOR; IS RELEASED

DECLARES HE DON'T KNOW WHO SOLD HIM WHISKY—PLACED IN HIS CAR, HE SAYS.

In the case of the State of Texas vs. Jim Davis charged with unlawfully transporting intoxicating liquor the jury brought in a verdict of not guilty. During the trial of this case and while the defendant Jim Davis was on the witness stand County Attorney Jack Lewis asked the defendant this question: "Who did you get this whisky from Mr. Davis? the answer was that he did not want to answer the question on the ground that it might tend to incriminate him. The Court ordered the question answered, the defendant still refused to answer, and the court adjudged him in contempt of court and fined him $100 and committed him to the county jail where he remained till

COUNCIL HAS OFFER TO BUY SEWAGE BONDS

MAYOR DAVIS WILL CALL MEETING TO CONSIDER SALE OF SECURITIES.

The city council has an offer to purchase the sewage disposal plant bonds voted in December of 1923.

Mayor Judd G. Davis announced Wednesday that he would likely call a meeting in the next few days to consider the sale of these securities.

The election authorized an issue of $25,000 for the erection of this plant which is to be located on a site secured near Little River.

At the meeting Tuesday night the council devoted much of its time to a discussion of the sewer connections required by ordinance passed by the council in March of this year.

These connections must be made in advance of the paving and until this work is completed and the street base properly set the asphalt cannot be laid.

Considerable delay has been experienced by the contractors in the paving program which was to have been completed within about seven months from the date of starting.

E. A. FLINN

E. A. Flinn, Beloved Citizen, Buried In Cameron Friday

For many years a resident of Milam county, beloved citizen, benefactor, churchman and friend, Edward Ailes Flinn, aged 49 years, died at the family residence in Cameron at 12:30 p. m. Thursday afternoon May 1, 1924.

Mr. Flinn suffered a stroke of appoplexy early in the morning from which he never regained consciousness. While his condition had been grave and hopes had been abandoned for his recovery the sudden change for the worse in his condition was a shock to the family and those in close touch with the sick room.

When word came of his death it brought a note of universal sadness for few men who have lived and died in this county have commanded the respect, love and admiration as did E. A. Flinn.

In his death the county loses one of the its most influential and distinguished citizens, one who lived a life worthy of emulation in every way.

Edward Ailes Flinn age 49 years, 6 months and 25 days, was born on father's plantation near Calvert, Robertson county, October 5, 1874. His mother died there when he was 8 years of age and the family moved to Milam county, locating on a plantation near Clarkson where he spent his boyhood. After his mother's death the home was presided over by his father's sister, Miss Margaret Flinn, whose Christian influence helped to mold his character.

His father was John Edward Flinn, a native of Alabama, coming to Texas soon after the Civil War and associating in business with the late Capt. C. P. Salter of Calvert, Texas. His mother was Miss Katherine Ailes, a native of Louisiana.

His father died when he was 19 years of age and he was made legally of age and took charge of his fathers estate.

He received his education at Tarver Grove school near Jones Prairie, then considered one of the best schools in Milam county.

He entered A. & M. College as a member of the Junior class in 1892 and 1893. He was second honor student of the class but was called home by the death of his father which prevented his graduating.

He was married to Miss Hattie Eleanor McKinney a daughter of the late Senator J. M. McKinney of Jones Prairie, Texas, Oct. 21, 1896. They continued to reside on his father's plantation until 1906 when the family moved to Jones Prairie where he had added a mercantile business to his farming interests.

In Jan. 1914 the family moved to Cameron where he has been engaged in various businesses an civic interests. Director of First National Bank, a member of Law-Sprinkel Mercantile Co., in Chevrolet Motor Co., etc. He served as a member of Cameron school board for a number of years.

In the last few years his business interests have been centered in South Texas, a farm near Corpus Christi, Texas, together with the Mercantile business at Jones Prairie.

He united with the Little River Baptist church at the age of 22, later moving his membership to Cameron and serving as a member of the Board of Deacons of both churches.

His health began to fail 4 years ago and since then he has been a patient in John Sealy Hospital, Galveston, Battle Creek, Mich., and Scott & White Hospital where all that medical service could do was done. During all this time he maintained a cheerful optimism and showed remarkable patience and Christian fortitude thru it all.

It was not until two weeks ago when Dr. M. L. Graves of Galveston was called to Temple in consultation that hope was completely abandoned. At his urgent request which seemed providential he was brought home from Temple Sunday April 27. His joy and happiness in being at home again made the few remaining days a comfort to the family, although they did not know the end was so near.

His brother, Rev. Glenn Flinn of Marlin, Texas, and a sister, Mrs. Bertha S. Brewer are his only surviving relatives besides his wife and six children: Katherine, Helen, Fontaine, Eber, Glenn and Harriett.

All the family except Fantaine, who did not reach home until that night, were at his bedside when he died.

None but those who have sat in the shadow of a great bereavment can justly weigh such a sorrow as this. Those who have gone down into the valley of suffering and stood for months by the bedside of a loved one, as hope after hope dropped away as the petals fall from a fading flower, know that such anguish cannot find solace in the tenderest words. He who has gone forth could not be supported on his solitary path by any earthly friend. The wife and children with a devotion few are capable of, whose strength was given tenderly, whose heroic devotion never faltered could not detain him by the clasp of earthly love; but after the last word had been spoken, the last sign of recognition was gone, a look of peace settled on his face which proclaimed victory and they knew he was resting on a mighty arm.

Funeral services were held from the First Baptist church of which deceased was a member. A short service was held in the home at 3:45 p. m. Friday May 2, 1924, and from the home the body was taken to the church.

Rev. B. B. Blaylock of Temple, former pastor here, conducted the services, paying tribute to the deceased with whom he had labored as a pastor

Milam county delegates to the State Democratic convention to be held in Waco on May 27 will go instructed to vote for an uninstructed delegation to the national convention.

The county convention Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock voted for an uninstructed delegation 76 to 23.

The resolution asking for an uninstructed delegation was offered by T. S. Henderson, Sr., who with Gov. Neff has been largely instrumental in delivering the county to the uninstructed column.

J. W. Garner of Rockdale was elected chairman of the convention over Arthur Baskin, the meeting being called to order by W. G. Gillis and presided over by him until the election of a permanent chairman.

The convention authorized a committee on resolutions to be selected by one from each of the eight precincts of the county.

W. G. Gillis offered a resolution endorsing prohibition incorporating wording used by Pat Neff in his resolution declaring for the "virtue and validity" of the prohibtion laws. Mr. Gillis spoke on the resolution.

J. A. Bailey of Jones Prairie moved as a substitute to the motion of T. S. Henderson that the resolution be referred to the committee for that purpose. He said the resolution sounded good but wanted to make it stronger if possible and asked that it be referred to the committee. A section of the convention broke into cheers as the farmer spoke to the resolution.

Mr. Bailey finally withdrew his motion after he had been assured the resolution was expressive of the will of the convention.

T. S. Henderson then offered a resolution calling for an uinstructed delegation to the state convention.

O. D. Baker of Gause moved as a substitute that the convention instruct for McAdoo. This motion was lost and the resolution to send the delegates uninstructed was passed by a vote of 76 to 23. The resolution also provides for unit instruction.

The chairman Giles L. Avriett of the committee to select delegates to the state convention reported and delegates were named. The convention then adjourned.

AMERICAN LIGION WILL BRING SHOWS TO CITY

WAUGH-SHAFER COMPANY ATTRACTIONS COMING WEEK OF MAY 12.

Cameron American Legion Post is preparing to bring to the City for a week's engagement one of the biggest and best amusement enterprises now in the State of Texas, the Waugh -Shafer, bigger better than a circus out door amusement enterprise. This is an exclusive Texas organization built in Texas with Texas material by Texas men and with Texas capital and stays in the State of Texas the year round.

Cameron Firemen will have part in this entertainment and will share equal with the Legion.

The Legion special committee investigated these shows thoroughly before they made a contract with the General Agent two months ago, and after finding that the show was exactly as Mr. Tipps said it was they decided to bring in the show and now A. E. Bentley is here making the final arrangements for the coming of this high class out door amusement attraction. The special agent informs us that there is 16 big shows and rides with the troup, all of which are worthy of a persons time and attention.

Some of the feature attractions that might be mentioned are that of the big circus side show where you will meet up with the funny little man Bluey Bluey who has made millions of people laugh and is still making the world laugh. Bluey as he is called by all that know him has more funny stunts in his line of comedy than Charlie Chaplin or Harold Lloyd.

There is a big wild west show with 15 of the best bucking horses in the State and such riders as Cherroke Bill and Vinger Bill, both Champion riders, bull doggers and ropers.

Another one of the feature attractions is that of the big minstrel show where you will see 25 of the very best of colored talent that time and money can put together so if you are lovers of good singing and dancing you will have a chance to see the best ministrel show that will be here this summer without any doubt.

Another one of the attractions is that of the big musical show with 18 of the very best of musical talent that was ever put out under canvas by any company and that is saying a whole lot for there are a good many good musical attraction on the road.

Still there is another attraction that should be mentioned that is the Athletic show. This is where you will find real sport if you are fond of good boxing and wrestling you will find these boys always ready to meet all comers at all times and if you think that you are good just step in the ring and take a try at them and find out for yourself if you are good or not.

The riding devices consist of the merry go round, the whip ferris wheel, baby sea plane and the latest out the goat ride, a new one.

METHODIST REVIVAL IS DRAWING HUGE CROWDS

MANY SIGN UP FOR FAMILY ALTARS IN THEIR HOMES AND PLEDGE BIBLE READING.

The big revival at the Methodist church is attracting large congregations both morning and evening, and much interest is being manifest.

Rev. King Vivian has delivered some wonderful sermons the past week. Last Sunday morning his subject was "Read the Bible"—and it was pronounced one of the most effective sermons of the meeting. At the close of his sermon he circulated Personal Covenant cards and 36 agreed to erect family altars in their homes; while 70 signed up agreeing to read the bible and pray each day.

Afred R. Wells has had splendid success in organizing a Junior Choir of as high as 350 almost every afternoon have attended. He projects with them—Tuesday he sent up a balloon, carrying a message, from the Junior Choir, stating that "Rev. King Vivian, Alfred R. Wells and Rev. R. S. Marshall are holding a revival at the Methodist church in Cameron—Come Over." When last seen the balloon was floating high and moving towards Hearne.

Next Sunday morning Rev. Mr. Vivian will preach a Mother's Day sermon and a capacity congregation is expected. At night another great message. Special music at each meeting.

Mr. Wells has a splendid Senior Choir and the music alone is worth coming miles to hear. Services at 10 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. daily. Come and enjoy these services.

The church was decked with flowers coming from many sections of the country as a last tribute to the man who was loved by many and respected by all.

The funeral was directed by the Green Bros. undertaking parlors of Cameron, one of the largest processions ever seen in Cameron. The casket, a beautiful gray steel case was brought into the church by the pall bearers at 4 o'clock and was placed directly before the altar. A single cluster of lilies rested on the casket.

The choir of selected voices sang a song then Rev. E. S. Hutcherson, pastor of the church offered a prayer. The pastor then introduced Judge W. G. Gillis who on behalf of the Milam county Red Cross paid a tribute of praise to the deceased, who up until 1920 was chairman of the county chapter and its directing spirit during the world war.

After Judge Gillis had concluded his eulogy he placed a white silken flag on the casket with appropriate words of tribute.

Rev. E. L. Spradley, for a number of years missionary in Milam county and personal friend of deceased, offered a fervent prayer as sacred tribute to the man who in his life time played so large a part as a layman in the church.

Outside a slow rain began to fall. The church was packed to capacity, hundreds having come from all sections of the county and from other portions of the state. It was shortly after four o'clock when Rev. B. B. Blaylock began to read a scripture from the New Testament. In one of the most touching of eulogies Mr. Blaylock began a recital of the life of the good man who had lived his life in this county and who had wrought as only one of his nature could to shape the ideals of his day and generation.

When the funeral sermon had been concluded Rev. Hutcherson and Rev. Blaylock led the procession up the isle to the entrance. Then came the family and the relatives.

From the church the procession formed and in a dismal drizzle of rain made its way to Oak Hill Cemetery where hundreds stood with uncovered heads in a last tribute to one whom they had known and loved as few men in this world are loved and respected.

At the grave the choir sang a song and Rev. E. S. Hutcherson offered the final prayer and the casket was lowered into the vault, and with the quickening of the shadows earth's mantle caught in lasting embrace this fragment of sacred, kindred dust.

Active pallbearers were: J. E. E. Mangum, Oxsheer Smith, Roy Jeter, Roy Law, Henry Hefley, Rush Thomas, Walter F. Sharpe, O. L. Kidd.

Baptist Deacons: Wm. Henderson, F. J. Beckerman, F. F. Reid, J. C. Martin, J. M. Ralston, A. N. Green, Gus Evans.

Honorary pallbearers were: Robt. McLane, C. N. Green, T. S. Henderson, Sr., John Watson, S. R. Drury, J. G. Vest, W. H. Triggs, Sr., Sam W. Law, Chas. Pitts, A. H. Baskin, John W. Joynes, W. G. Gillis, S. W. Cheeves, R. H. McIntosh, J. L. Denson, P. O. Adams, Dr. T. J. Denson, B. S. Brown, G. R. Drury.

As long as our conventions are dominated by the professional politicians, you will hear "politics" referred to as "rotten." For just one time, I would like to see the lawyers and professional politicians hands off, and let the common citizens have rule.

The Legislatsve History of the Commission

By WALTER SPLAWN
Railroad Commissioner of Texas.

As early as 1876 Governor Coke recommended that the Legislature examine the Railroad Commission of Massachusetts and in his message he commented favorably upon the work of that Commission. In the spring of 1882 Governor Roberts called the Legislature into special session and submitted the matter of regulating railroad transportation. A bill passed the Mouse proposing a Commission with rate making powers. Another bill passed the State but both died in conference. In the winter of 1882 Governor Roberts again called attention to the need of a railroad commission. He emphasized the inability of private individuals to obtain redress for their grievances against railroad companies. A few days after this message. Governor Roberts retired and Governor Ireland succeeded him. The newly installed governor endorsed the recommendation of his predecessor and called for the creation of a commission. By this time there was a strong sentiment in the state in favor of a commission. Many bills were introduced proposing as many varieties of a railroad commission. Through the efforts of the speaker of the House, a bill providing for a strong commission was defeated and a substitute was adopted which provided for a State Engineer who should investigate the physical condition of the railroads. This substitute passed both houses and beacame a law.

This experiment was not satisfactory. The State Engineer felt the law did not clothe him with any power and after eighteen months he recommended that his office be abolished.

In 1885 Governor Ireland did not renew his request fo ra railroad commission but in 1887 the fight was renewed. By this time the administration was hostile to the commission idea. Still, a number of bills were introduced proposing a railroad commission. When the Thirty-first Legislature convened in 1889, the prospects for passing a law providing for a railroad commission were much brighter. A bill creating a commission of the mandatory type was introduced and debated in both the House and the Senate. These debates were devoted chiefly to the constitutionality of the proposed law. Though a bill passed the House, some of the best lawyers in the Senate thought it advisable first to remove all question of the Legislature's right under the constitution to empower a commission to make rates. The Senate put aside the House bill and both houses by the required two-thirds majority voted to submit to the people an amendment to the constitution which would empower the Legislature to establish a commission with authority to fix rates.

James S. Hogg in 1890 opened his campaign for Governor by championing the proposed amendemnt to the constitution. He identified himself with the amendment. Winning the nomination for Governor, he was able to commit his party and to write into its Platform a plank which recommended the adoption of the commission, and pledged the party to the enactment of a law creating a commission with full power to make rates.

Pioneer of Milam County W. E. McLeman, Dies at China Springs Home

China Spings, Texas, May 5.—W. E. McLennan, one of the old and honored residents of our section, died early Sunday morning, May 4. Thus another one of the good and exemplary citizens and benevolent Christian gentlemen of McLennan county has passed to the great beyond, and his pure, guileless spirit has returned to the God who gave it. We have known Mr. McLennan intimately for more than fifty years, and can truthfully say that we have never known a kinder, nobler, more honorable and generous man than our departed friend, W. E. McLennan.

McLennan county was called on, early Sunday morning, to surrender another of its pioneer citizens, this time a man who was a grandson of the settler for whom this county was named, when the grim reaper summoned W. E. McLennan, aged 76. He passed away at his home, China Springs.

Mr. McLennan had been ill for some time, but his health had so greatly improved that he was able to be out last Saturday.

The funeral took place Monday afternoon at 5:30 from the Baptist church at China Springs, with Rev. John W. Kerns, pastor of the Central Christian church, Waco, of which church Mr. McLennan was a member, officiating. Interment will be made in the cemetery at China Springs.

Active pall bearers were: C. R. Davis, John W. Baker, T. D. Smith, C. K. Smith, George Harris and John Martin. Honorary: C. M. Hubby, Sr., R. V. McClain, J. K. Rose, Dr. B. B. Caldwell, C. S. Eichelberger, Dolph Eichelberger, Lee and Jack Ringer and Shoat Kennedy.

Mr. McLennan was a grandson of the late Neil McLennan, for whom McLennan county was named. He was born in Milam county, and credited with being the first white child born in Cameron. He was brought to this county as a mere child by his parents, and he had lived in the China Springs community for the last 72 years.

Mr. McLennan was of that sturdy type of Texas pioneers, who have done so much for the advancement of the south. He was a man in whom his friends had the most implicit confidence, his every act was marked by the strictest observance of the golden rule, while his sterling integrity and unswerving loyalty to his friends endeared him to all.

He had been married for 52 years, and his death was the first that has occurred during that lengthy period in his immediate family.

(The above complimentary notice of Mr. W. E. McLennan who is credited with being the first white boy born in Cameron is copied from the Waco Times-Herald. Mr. McLennan was an heir under the Lizzie B. Wilson will. He visited Mr. T. G. Sampson and other relatives here recently. Mr. McLennan is an uncle of Messrs. August and Bismark Horstmann and is otherwise prominently connected to Cameron people.)

FOUR PASSENGER COUPE IS NEWEST CHEVROLET

To meet the requirements of women for a car for their own individual use, the Chevrolet Motor Company has specially designed and added to its standard line a four-passenger coupe. The new car is being shown by White-House Motor Company, in their showrooms on the square.

With more than 14,000,000 motor cars now being operated throughout the United States, statistics recently compiled by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce show that more than 5 per cent of this sum total of cars are owned and operated by women.

The demand for a distinctively women's car is constantly growing, according to automobile dealers. Speaking of this yesterday, Mr. White said:

"The automobile is today an important factor in the life and activities, home, social, recreational and business,—of women everywhere. With the ever-increasing demands upon their time, they are realizing, more and more that a car for their personal use—their own car—is an actual, day by day, necessity.

"Utility, the ease of getting somewhere and getting back again comfortably and quickly, the convenience of bringing one's shopping and marketing packages home without delay, the saving of time in so many ways, the conserving of energy,—these are the big appealing forces. Bachelor maid or busy matron, city or country woman, business woman, teacher,—each has her own particular need for a car. If there is a home or family car, it usually fails to serve her purpose for it is used by the man of the house during the day—just when the woman needs it, too—in connection with his business, and the woman is left marooned.

"The woman's own car is an essential thing. It provides the real solution of the problem of the busy woman who must find time shomehow to accomplish the many things she has to do and, at the same time, keep herself happy and healthy while doing them."

The Chevrolet four-passenger coupe is fully equipped, has sun visor, windshield cleaner, dome and dash lights, foot accelerator, and plate glass windows fitted with Ternstedt regulators. The closed body is by Fisher. Seating arrangements take care of four people without cramping or crowding; when less than four are carried, the front seat beside the driver may be folded up and turned in under the dash. A compartment inside the car provides generous space for the carrying of packages.

LOVE ASKS NEFF "WHO IS DEAD DUCK" NOW AFTER PRIMARY.

Dallas, Texas, May 3.—Thomas B. Love, leader of the McAdoo forces in Texas, gave out the following statement last Saturday night:

"It is a great victory for progressive democracy in Texas. It is an overwhelming victory for the honorable Wm. G. McAdoo.

"It looks as if 225 of the 250 counties have gone for this champion of porgressive democracy. This action of Texas means that Wm. G. McAdoo will be nominated by the democrats and elected president of the United States. In this victory Texas will play the noble part which it played in 1912, when its strength was thrown to the immortal Woodrow Wilson.

"I do not think we shall ever again see a governor of Texas play the part that Governor Neff played in the fight. It is a smashing defeat for the governor.

"When the Brennan machine ran over McAdoo in Illinois Governor Neff referred to Mr. McAdoo as a dead duck. I wonder who is the dead duck now?

"But I do not wish to gloat. I prefer to take the attitude of Captain Phillips at the battle of Santiago, when he said 'Don't cheer, boys; the poor devils are dying.'"

Neff Beaten, Says He Will Bow To Waco Convention

Austin, May 4.—Despite the results of the precinct conventions held in the State Saturday, Pat M. Neff announced Sunday in a statement addressed "to the Democracy of Texas" that it is still his "opinion that it would be unwise to instruct our 40 delegates to vote during the national ntion for any particular individual.

The Governor also declared that if the Democrats at the State convention at Waco think differently, he shall gladly accept their final collective judgment as final."

"Neither personally nor politically have I any regrets at having made my speaking campaign in behalf of an uninstructed delegation from Texas to the national Democratic convention," Governor Neff said in his statement.

"I feel sure that I shall not be misunderstood when I say that nothing could have come to me personally, however, successful the campaign might have been, that would not have come my way had no campaign at all been made. We are all Democrats, and good, clean, patriotic discussion of public questions is always helpful. It is impossible to educate unless we agitate. Too much harmony in the world of politics is never a healthful sign."

"I am a part of the prohibtion, progressive, law enforceing, clean government division of the Democratic party. I do not trail at any time in any way with those holding different views It is still my opinion that it would be unwise to instruct our 40 delegates to vote during the national convention for any particular individual. As I see it, they should be instructed only as to principles, and be left free to vote in keeping with those instructions for whomsoever they deem wise.

"If, however, the Democrats of Texas, when they meet in their State convention, think another and different course is the path of wisdom, I shall gladly accept their collective judgment as final, and gladly join them, in every honorable way, in making the cause of Texas Democracy a success."

COTTON CLASSING SHORT COURSE THAT SPELLS SUCCESS.

Men of all ages are coming to T. C. C. to take advantage of this High Grade Course.

In the South, the man who links his future with cotton—either as a planter, grader, buyer or broker—need have no worries about the future if he makes it a point to KNOW HIS BUSINESS. Fortunes are made every year by men who have taken the pains to study cotton—men who can quickly and unerringly detect the seemingly slight differences in various samples which may make a great deal of difference in their worth.

Realizing just how valuable to the people of Texas, a REAL Cotton Classing Course would be, TYLER COMMERCIAL COLLEGE, several years ago, instituted just such a department. It met with instant favor and it continues to be one of the most popular shorter courses offered at this big institution. Men from far and near, young and old, come to T. C. C. by the hundreds to learn Cotton Classing and go forth a few weeks later with a knowledge that means either greater success in cotton farming or good positions as graders and buyers.

Men from every type of work that has anything to do with "King Cotton" enroll for this course. Farmers take it in order that they may know, when selling their crop, that they are getting full value for it. Buyers take it that they may complete their knowledge of their business. Young men enroll to fit themselves for graders and buyers, since there is always a heavy demand for trained men in these fields.

While the course is so arranged that the actual cotton classing work may be taken alone—men of some experience have completed this part of the course in three weeks or less—it is advisable that all who can do so, take the complete course. This includes Business Arithmetic, Business Writing, Rapid Calculation, Business Law, Spelling, Grammar, Correspondence, and the keeping of certain sets of books pertinent to certain phases of cotton classing, buying and selling, etc. To the man who expects to rise in his work, the knowledge covered by these additional subjects is of vital importance. This knowledge will fit him to accept higher responsibilities when they come. Without it, he would be lost in an executive position.

$3,000 JOBS.

If you are interested in fitting yourself to step into a $3,000 job and many trained cotton graders and buyers are earning this much or more—wouldn't it be a wise move on your part to arrange to take up this course with as little elop as possible? The course is open the year round You can start any time but every minute you delay, you are postponing the day you can begin your work.

An examination just held in our class rooms by Mr. L. E. Dowd, Chairman State Board of Examiners of Texas, and himself a graduate of Tyler Commercial College Cotton Department, was passed by fifty per cent of those who took it, which makes them LICENSED CLASSERS.

There is a large interesting book describing this work and a combination of all the work done in this wonderful institution. If you are interested, fill in the coupon below, and mail it to us.

FALLACY OF SO-CALLED GUARANTEE OF BANK DEPOSITS BY LAW

By WALTER W. HEAD, President
The American Bankers Association

Walter W. Head

The bank deposit guaranty is an attempt to establish fictitious value—to create value by order of government. Adopted first in Oklahoma in 1909, this plan was carried into several western states and threatened, for a brief time, to become a serious issue in connection with our national banking system. Recent experience has proved, in this instance as in others, that sound economic law cannot be disregarded with impunity.

Oklahoma adopted the deposit guaranty as a result of the failure of a number of banks in the panic of 1907. The system was misnamed at the start. It was not a guaranty, in any true sense of the word, but simply a form of mutual insurance. The various state banks were assessed a limited amount, in proportion to their respective deposits, to pay the losses incurred by failures. For a time all went well. The prosperity incident to the development of territory, recently opened to settlement, prevented failures. But the deflation of 1920-1921 brought about a crisis in the guaranty system of Oklahoma. In November, 1921, the failure of the Bank of Commerce of Okmulgee brought the estimated total liabilities of the Oklahoma Guaranty Fund up to $3,354,000. Guaranty fund warrants drew 6 per cent interest, under the law which then existed, and this meant that the interest charge alone, on these outstanding warrants, amounted to two-thirds of the maximum possible annual assessment.

Failure and Repeal

Other banks failed in the following months, and the plight of the State guaranty fund became hopeless. State banks surrendered their state charters and entered the national system. By January, 1923, deposits in Oklahoma state banks were only $78,000,000, only half the total of November, 1921. This was the condition when the state legislature convened, and, after various attempts to relieve the situation by one of several expedients, the law makers repealed the guaranty sections of the banking law.

This is the story of the Oklahoma bank deposit guaranty, which was born, lived and died in the brief space of fourteen years. In that time the Oklahoma plan was adopted, with some modifications, by seven other states. In none of these has it been abandoned as yet. In every instance it has been subjected to severe strain, and in most of them the question of whether or not the guaranty fund can pay existing obligations is somewhat doubtful. My own state, Nebraska, I am thankful to say, is not one of these.

The guaranty of bank deposits failed in Oklahoma and is threatened with failure in other states because it was not what it pretended to be, and, furthermore, because it violated sound, economic law. The so-called guaranty is not, in any state, what its name implies. It is not in fact a guaranty. It is an insurance plan dependent, as are all insurance plans, upon the sufficiency of the premiums which may be paid. Experience has proved that the premiums are not sufficient—and yet the insured cannot afford to submit to higher premiums. Conceived in economic sin, born in the midst of economic iniquity, the bank deposit guarantee in Oklahoma went the way of all similar attempts to overcome or defy the natural law of economics. And yet we have today in the Congress of the United States a Representative of the State of Oklahoma who will—if he has his way—foist this iniquitous, impracticable system upon the National Banking System.

Integrity Cannot Be Legislated

The fundamental difficulty with the insurance of bank deposits—to apply the correct name—is that it is an attempt to create integrity and financial ability by legislative act. Depositors in many instances were invited to accept, as their principal assurance of safety, a gilded sign upon the bank window, "This bank protected by the state guaranty fund." This protection, it has been proved, was not adequate; mere words were not a good substitute for individual responsibility, supported by stocks of gold or currency. No longer was there a premium upon the character of the banker; no longer did depositors feel the necessity of giving preference to men of character when they selected their banker. They felt that the guaranty fund took the place of that. But the guaranty of bank deposits in Oklahoma failed—as all efforts to substitute governmental dictum for integrity and ability must fail.

COW-SCALPERS

In Wisconsin the State Bankers Association is employing a man to give his entire time to the agricultural work of the association. His major activity is along the line of marketing dairy cattle. He is constantly in touch with the stock for sale in all parts of the State and is in position to refer a prospective buyer to stock of the breed and quality desired. He has the assistance of reliable field men who are good judges of dairy cattle. There is no need for any farmer to fall into the hands of unscrupulous "cow scalpers" if his bankers will only take an interest in helping him to make the right kind of connections.—Banker-Farmer.

Says McAdoo the Hope of Progressive Democracy

Dallas, Texas, May 6.—Cato Sells, McAdoo Manager for Texas, gives out the following statement concerning the presidential precinct meeting returns and their significance.

"The Presidential campaign for Woodrow Wilson in 1912 and its resultant victory was an unprecedented triumph for progressive Democracy in Texas. During the years that have intervened Texas has been a major factor in shaping every constructive progressive congressional legislative movement and a conspicuous leader in the battle of statecraft for human rights and equality before the law.

"The preliminary pesidential campaign for William Gibbs McAdoo just closed, and the assurance of similar results at the county conventions Tuesday, is a striking counterpart of the 1912 political conditions and the then results, with the notably significant fact that progressive Democracy has unmistakably demonstrated its continuing supremacy in Texas, even as against the most determined opposition of co-operating contradictory forces.

"There is more than State significance in the precinct meeting returns of last Saturday. It is of Nation-wide importance. It speaks the mind of the controlling elements in the next presidential election. It means that the South and West can and should make a common fight against the reactionary and wet East for national administration control with every promise of a repetition of the triumph of 1912.

"McAdoo is the hope of the progressive and liberal political thought in America. Texas has given him a big start lead toward the White House. If nominated he will be elected. McAdoo would make a good president. The outlook is most gratifying."

8420 Acres Black Land Colonization Tract.

Located 2 miles North of Brundage, 7 miles N. W of Big Wells in Dimmit county. This land is practically level; practically all agricultural with 85 per cent black with curley mesquite grass, a portion of it being very open, would be called prairie with scattered mesquites; other portions very brushy; it is in the heart of what is known as the Artesian belt with artesian wells surrounding it and it is also in the winter vegetable district. It is reported that one party sold $66,000 net worth of vegetables from less than 300 acres and some other parties living in San Antonio recently paid $65,000 for 1,000 acres unimproved. This is not only choice cotton land but also good truck land and priced to sell at $15 per acre. Would consider one-third in a clear improved farm at actual low down cash value located North or Northeast of San Antonio; balance good terms.

Baptist Men's Bible Class Has 138 Present On Sunday

The largest Sunday School class for men in Milam county and rapidly becoming one of the largest classes in central Texas the Men's Bible Class at the Baptist church is undertaking and succeeding in a program of expansion that speaks volumes for the religious life of the church and community.

Always a strong class and well attended by the men of the church this class dates back for a number of years and its existence has been a vital part of the Sunday school and church.

The class ranks high in its percentage of Bible students, men who have made a study of the Bible and who can teach it to others.

J. H. Dubois is the president of the class and has been energetic in building up this class to its present influence and standing.

A. J. Andrews for many years a faithful attendant of the class is the secretary and treasurer of the class.

This class has not only been a means of getting men to go to the Sunday school but has taken the lead in a great many enterprises for the church.

When the matter of church improvement is under consideration this class is found among the leading branches of the church. The class is helping to place electric fans in the church and it is predicted that the class will have a very large influence in the expansion of the church this year.

When the Sunday school goal was set for 500 the class set its goal at 50 and this goal was reached. The class then set the goal at 60 and this was reached. The goal was then set at 100 and on last Sunday it was the happy experience of Mr. DuBois and the teachers to see 138 men in attendance at the class.

Both Mr. DuBois and Mr. Kidd made splendid talks to the class.

J. H. DuBOIS

President Bible Class.

The men meet on the ground floor of the Sunday school annex of the building with a separate entrance. A sign has been placed at the entrance to indicate the meeting place and other conveniences have been inaugurated to build up the class.

Great preparation is given to the teaching of the lesson on Sunday. In every case reviews are given and historical facts are presented so as to make the lesson one of unusual interest at all times.

Every effort possible is made to make the attendance at the class one of pleasure as well as profit.

Mr. DuBois says that the class will not stop with reaching its goal on last Sunday but will try to hold that attendance and increase it over that figure.

A cordial invitation is extended to the men of Cameron to attend this class and especially will strangers and visitors be cordially entertained.

THREE ARE KILLED AS TRAIN HITS AUTO IN FATAL RACE TO GRADE CROSSING.

Houston, exas, May 4.—Two high school girls and a youthful musician were killed and a third high school girl seriously injured when a race between the automobile in which the four riding with a Southern Pacific train ended in a crash at a grade crossing at Sylvian beach near here this afternoon.

The dead: N. A. (Bud) Miller, a musician, Sylvan park orchestra; Miss Vivian Salter, 17, Central high school student; Miss Esther Wennberg, 18, Central high school student. The injured; Miss Wilma Watson, 19, Central high school student.

The accident occurred where the beach highway after paralleli railroad tracks for some distance crosses the track at an angle.

The engineer of the train is quoted as stating he saw the speeding automobile but thought it would turn on the road away from the crossing rather than on the crossing. Other witnesses stated that the automobile was going at a high rate of speed and that the driver possibly did not hear the oncoming train at his rear. The only surviving occupant of the car is unconscious.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

SLAYERS' BODY IS FOUND IN BRAZOS.

Graham, May 4.—The body of W. E. Crick, for whom posses have been searching in the Brazos River bottoms of Southern Young county, was today taken from a pool near the farm home where on Friday afternoon he is supposed to have beaten his wife and six-year-old son to death with an axe.

The searchers found Crick's hat on the bank of the river early in their search; and have been dragging the river for the body which was finally brought to the surface with a rake.

It is believed the man ran from the scene of his crime to the river which he entered at shallow spot. Still running and not knowing the stream, Crock is supposed to have stepped into about six feet of water some 20 feet from the bank. There, being unable to swim, the man drowned.

No motive has been discovered for the crime, other than a possible fit of anger or temporary insanity.

With public interest in baloon tires at its height Willys-Overland announces its newest model, the Blue Bird, the lowest-priced motor car with genuine baloon tires furnished as standard equipment.

Those who have seen the car at its preliminary showings at the factory agree that the Blue Bird is the most striking design that have ever been produced by this organization.

The combination of a long, roomy body done in rich Peacock Blue, set off by black fenders and running gear, smartened by nickled radiator, windshield stanchions and outside door handles; with upholstery of a bluish shade to match the body, and a top of similar hue, creates an appearance of spirit and sparkle that is entirely in keeping with its happy choice of trade name.

This new creation is another instance of Willys-Overland's endeavor to work steadfastly toward the end that beauty, utility and economy can be assembled in a single unit.

It is one more illustration of fine, well-bred coloring, which combines attractiveness with utility. The hue used on the new Blue Bird will stand up under the most exacting weather conditions and cannot be influenced by the summer sun or by winter's dampness and frosts.

A new standard in riding qualities has also been reached by the coupling of the patented tripplex spring suspension with baloon tires. The wheelbase of the new car is 106 inches, giving it a spring base of 136 inches. The weight of each Overland spring is about twenty pounds. The material is chrome vanadium steel, carefully heat treated, having an eleastic limit of 190,000 pounds. The springs are so designed and essembled in the chasis that all road shocks are absorbed with a minimum distortion of chasis.

Addition of genuine Fisk 31x5.25 balloon tires, which further cushion the road, positively guarantees utmost physical relaxation to the occupants of the car even over the roughest highways.

The power plant is the same that has made the entire nation gasp by its stamina and power in difficult road mountain tests in all corners of the country. Its rejeated ascents of Motorcycle Hill in Arizona, its scaling of the meteor-glazed sides of Stone Mountain near Atlanta, Ga., are but two high points of a series of spectacular feats that have thrilled motoring circles during the past ten months.

The cylinder finish of this rugged motor is remarkably thorough, the concluding operation being a lapping process that removes all roughness following the reaming operations. The engine base has a double bottom which increases its strength and rigidity and provides for the correct oil supply to all connecting rods under all road and grade conditions. Valves are made of specially selected material.

Clutch is of the single-plate disc type, smooth in operation, and completely encased, providing protection from dirt and grit.

Front axel is tested to an elastic limit of 75,000 to 90,000 pounds, with large king bolt bearings and wheel spindles. Cross rod link is of unusually heavy steel.

Rear axle construction is substantial and well assembled, with strong anxle housing. 1 1-2 inch axle shafts of Molybdenum steel, Timken bearings on differential case and New Departure bearings in the center.

These important mechanical specifications, with its other up to date features, provide the new Blue Bird with the qualifications that make it a thing of animation, speed and comfort, which should readily win its way into the hearts of thousands of owners throughout the country.

Equipped with natural finish wood wheels, the Blue Bird will sell for $725.00 f. o. b. Toledo. Disc wheels are optional, a complete set of five being furnished at an extra cost of $25.00.

CAMERON BOY HURT IN ACCIDENT AT HOUSTON.

Dewey H. Hightower, a well known Cameron boy who has been living in Houston for the past two months where he is employed by the Houston Electric Company, barely escaped serious and perhaps fatal injuries when the street car which he was operating was side-swiped by a fire truck.

The accident occurred on Thursday evening, May 1st, about 8:20, just after Mr. Hightower on an out-bound car had crossed the North Main Street Viaduct. Just as the fire truck turned to avoid striking an automobile on the right, the rear end struck the left front of the street car. One of the firemen was killed and several others were injured.

Mr. Hightower was not seriously hurt, but was pretty badly shaken up by the shock. One of his knees was sprained. It was necessary for him to remain at home for several days before going back on duty.

ROCKDALE MAN INJURED HERE.

Just as Max Farrai and Mr. Wallace Simmons were entering Thorndale and while crossing the I.-G. N., tracks at the depot the car in which they were riding began to bounce so abruptly that Mr. Farrai feared the car was about to topple over and made an effort to jump from the car, resulting in a compound fracture of the bone of his left leg below the knee and in the ankle joint. He was taken to the offices of Drs. Laurence & Anderson and an X-Ray picture made of the wound showed the fractures plainly as stated. He was taken to the home of his father in law, A. J. Urban, here, where he was given medical attention. The car was of the low bed racer type and the wonder is that the men were not thrown out before reaching Thorndale over the rough road which they came. Mr. Simmons remained in the car and was unhurt.—Thorndale Champion.

Help Kidneys By Drinking More Water

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys and Help Neutralize Irritating Acids

Kidney and bladder irritations often result from acidity, says a noted authority. The kidneys help filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it may remain to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread; the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is often one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Begin drinking lots of soft water, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast. Continue this for two or three days. This will help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normal again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by acid irritation. Jad Salts causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which may quickly relieve your bladder irritation. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

Severe Pains in Side

"I HAD had quite a bad spell and sickness," writes Mrs. Emma Patrick, of Caney, Ky., "and it was an effort for me to go about my home. I had a very severe pain in my left side that almost took my breath at times. I lost my appetite. I grew thin, pale and lifeless. I fell off till I only weighed about 115 pounds.

"Cardui was recommended to me and by the time I had taken one bottle I saw it was what I needed. I ate more and rested better. I kept taking it and my skin and flesh took on a more healthy color. I felt stronger and, as the nervousness left me, the pain in my side was less severe. After taking nine bottles, I eat anything, go anywhere and feel fine. I weigh 160 pounds and am well. I feel that I owe it all to having used Cardui."

Pain, in certain parts of the body, is a sure indication of female complications. The treatment needed is not the use of narcotic drugs, but—

News of the Churches

BAPTIST HOUR IS COME DECLARES HUTCHERSON

BAPTISTS OF CAMERON MUST ANSWER OPPORTUNITY KNOCKING AT DOOR.

Drawing inspiration from the largest Sunday school attendance in the history of the church and based upon the progress of the church in every department during the past few months, E. S. Hutcherson, pastor of the Baptist church Sunday morning declared that the hour has struck for the Cameron church to embrace great opportunity.

Launching directly into a discussion of the church progress the pastor indicated the desire of the church for a new building to house its activities. Crowded conditions in the church have led the pastor and deacons to anticipate in a measure the needs of the church and the sermon of the pastor Sunday morning is believed to indicate an awakening in the matter of a church building.

The church he said must prepare to teach the people the Bible and unless the church makes room for the people who are knocking and who wish to be taught, it will fail the greatest mission of its life.

"We need to re-affirm the belief that the Holy Bible is the infallible word of God," said Mr. Hutcherson, "and to believe in the Genesis account of creation, the atoning blood of Christ, punishment and all the fundamental teachings of the Bible. The world is thirsting for the word and we must teach it. We must not leave it to unsound theology to teach the work."

"Just as people everywhere are thirsting for democratic government so are the people everywhere thirsting for the great democracy of God."

The pastor closed his sermon with a plea for the lost and one responded for baptism.

A good musical program was rendered as usual with a large attendance, the Sunday school drawing the largest crowd in the history of the church contributing to the church services.

At night the pastor preached a special sermon to the unsaved and two came forward to unite with the church by letter.

A special music program was arranged for the evening hour and the orchestra directed by Prof. Jack Foster and the choir, directed by Miss Nell DuBois afforded an excellent program.

MOTHER'S BIBLE CLASS BAPTIST CHURCH ASK MOTHERS TO ATTEND.

Sunday May 11 is Mothers Da and the Mothers Bible Class of the Baptist Sunday school has issued an invitation to the mothers of Cameron to spend the morning hour with the class and to remain for the service at 11 o'clock which will be given over to the honor of Mothers and the day which has been set aside and designated as Mothers Day.

Mrs. E. S. Hutcherson is teacher of this class and Mrs. S. M. Burns, Jr., is the secretary of the class. Mrs. Burns announced that a nursery will be provided for that day at the church and small children taken care of. This will give the Mothers the privilege to enjoy the sermon and the services.

A special appeal is addressed to Mothers to attend the class meeting Sunday morning and to remain for the church services.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Sunday is "Mother's Day," in honor of that one who first took us to church, and it may be battled with us there, and in quieter hour, taught us to say: "Now I lay me down to sleep," let us each and every one go to church Sunday.

The Presbyterian church will next Sunday be open morning and evening with sermons by the pastor.

We had our hands full at Bible school last Sunday, but we noted a few vacant chairs, and these may be vacant again Sunday if some do not come to our help. Next Sunday will tell the story as to our favorite Presbyterian doctrine of "perseverance."

H. R. McFadyen, Pastor.

NOTICE TO THE PEOPLE.

It is becoming increasingly difficult for the city to maintain proper drainage with the people in many sections of the city emptying trash in the ditches alongside of their property. Grass cut from lawns has been dumped into the ditches and complaint has been made about the lack of drainage.

If the citizens will co-operate with the street department the city drainage will be better and less trouble will be had. Kindly let everyone observe this in the future and the city will be better drained.

FEDERAL MUSIC CLUB.

Mrs. A. N. Green and Miss Beth Jeter returned from Austin on Saturday afternoon where they went on Tuesday as delegates from the Cameron Music Club to the Texas Federation of Music Clubs.

While in Autin they enjoyed the full program of music and pleasure provided for the Federation.

On Tuesday night they attended a reception given by the Women's Faculty Club of the University of Texas. On Wednesday after registration and a business session a luncheon at the Driskill Hotel was enjoyed. On the afternoon of that day a musical program tendered by the pupils of the Blind Institute was a feature. On Wednesday Evening at the First Methodist Church of Austin, where all Federation meetings were held, the University Girls Glee Club of which Miss Agnes Henderson of Cameron is a member entertained with a program of song.

At noon on Thursday a luncheon at the Austin Country Club was a delightful social function and on Thursday evening the musical program was furnished by famous Texas artists.

On Friday morning Scholarship music contests were heard. In the afternoon the delegates enjoyed a reception at the Governor's Mansion. On Friday night Professor Reed's Full Symphony Orchestra closed the weeks entertainment with a grand concert.

The Cameron delegates were royally entertained and have returned with new enthusiasm for work in the music club.

The Texas Federation of Music Clubs closed its annual session here. There was no election of officers, as they serve for two years.

Report of the scholarship committee showed that of the sixteen scholarships offered by the federation thirteen had been applied for. The Crume Memorial Medal was awarded to Miss Julia Smith of Denton. The Arthur Friedheim scholorship was awarded to Miss Hudgins of Forney. The scholorship to the Cincinnati Conservatory went to Alice Jones of Dallas. Mildred Hughes of Austin won the Herbert Witherspoon voice scholarship was awarded to Mrs. Wilber W. Hawkins of Dallas. Miss Mary Templer of Houston was awarded the Ralph Leach Steres voice scholarship. VioletElder of Houston was given the Capnilliez scholarship.

Reports from the various local clubs showed that philanthropic work was being done by practically every town; that musical instruments were being provided for the schools, that poor children were being provided free tuition, that musical organizations are co-operating as never before with the school authorities in furthering music in the schools.

The following resolution was adopted:

"That the Texas Federation of Music Clubs adopt some plan by which musicians appearing on fine arts program of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs will receive remuneration for their services.

"That Texas Federation of Music Clubs indorse the establishment of a college of music in the University of Texas according to the plans prepared by Professor Reed and submitted to Dr. Sutton.

"That there be on the program at annual meetings of Texas Federation of Music Clubs a speaker and ar artist of national reputation. If possible, a native Texan who has achieved this national reputation.

"That extensive publicity be given to speakers, artists and composers who appear on convention programs.

"That the State park music colony is a movement for the promotion and fostering of the creative and allied arts and is of vital importance to the educational growth of the State.

"That the Texas Federation of Music Clubs petition the Legislature to pass a bill providing for such a colony."

Invitations to meet next year were extended by Dallas and Beaumont. Decision was placed in the hands of a committee. Adjournment was followed by a reception at the Governor's mansion.

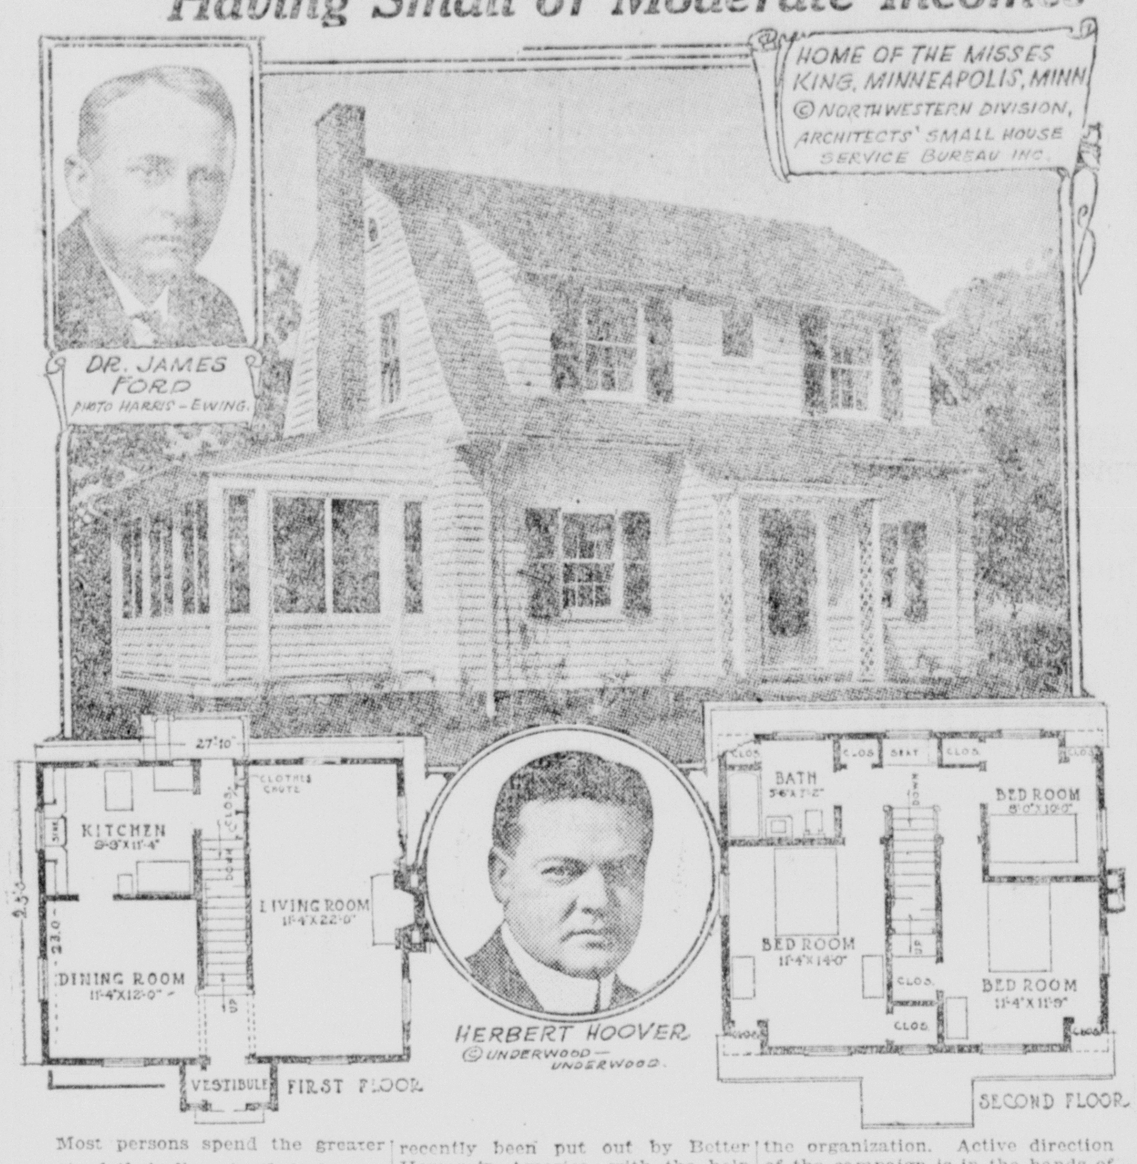
Better Homes In America Movement
Specializing on Homes for Families Having Small or Moderate Incomes



Most persons spend the greater part of their lives in their homes. Making the world a better place to live in must mean to a large extent making homes better places to live in.

This is the aim of Better Homes in America, the educational movement which is now in its third year of usefulness, having been completely reorganized early in 1924 and free from all private or commercial interests. While the scope of Better Homes in America goes far beyond the actual house itself, part of its work is the encouragement of thrift for home ownership, thus to help America to become again, as far as practicable, a nation of families dwelling in single, detached houses.

A book of small house plans has recently been put out by Better Homes in America, with the help of the Architects Small House Service Bureau, which is controlled by the American Institute of Architects, and is one of the organizations co-operating with Better Homes in America. The book is issued at cost price—25 cents.

The picture above shows one of the small house plans in the booklet published by Better Homes in America, which is specializing this year in demonstrating how the family of small or moderate means can get the most out of the family income for the home, from the standpoints of comfort, economy, and beauty.

Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce, has been identified with the Better Homes movement since its inception, and is president of the organization. Active direction of the campaign is in the hands of Dr. James Ford, whose picture is shown above. Dr. Ford, who is a member of the faculty of Harvard University, was granted special leave of absence in order that he might take up the direction of Better Homes in America.

The first year of the movement—1922—about five hundred communities demonstrated "better homes", and the last year the movement was extended to about double that number. This year many hundreds of additional communities will hold demonstrations. Special efforts are being made to extend the educational movement to the rural sections of the country. Special stress is being laid, also, on homes for American families of small or moderate means.

AUTO PLUNGES OFF RAILROAD VIADUCT; ONE DEAD AND FOUR HURT.

San Antonio, Texas, May 4.—Private Dallas Callahan, 12th field artillery, was killed; Sergeant Wm. Young, 9th infantry driver of the automobile, four other passengers, two of them women, were seriously hurt when their car jumped through the railing of a railroad viaduct and fell to the rails 20 feet below here early today. The car, beyond control, plunged into the rail and tore 90 feet of it away before falling. Mrs. Conscuelo Young, wife of the driver, and one of the injured, is believed to have a fractured skull.

THORNDALE SCHOOL NOTES.

The school children spent the San Jacinto holiday in various ways. Some went on picnics, others went fishing, some went to the San Antonio celebration, and others cleaned up the back yards, mowed lawns and other jobs.

On last Tuesday the Bull Dogs lost a ball game at Sharp to the score of 10 to 4. Next year our adthletic team will be stronger as we will not loose the players on account of affiliation as we did this year.

Rev. E. M. Monrose, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Taylor will preach the commencement sermon in the high school auditorium, Sunday, May 11th at eight P. M. The seventh grade play and graduation exercises will be Thursday, May 15th at eight p. m. On the next evening May 16th, the Senior class graudation exercises will take place.

Upon being questioned, little Hugh Graham explained to Miss Clarice Jinks that he didn't like school when it fist started because Miss Turner made him wash his face and when he went home the dog, not knowing him, refused to let him in the yard.

Miss Tarkinton, with the help of the high school English classes entertained in chapel last Friday morning. Steve Reiger dressed in a bright colored shirt, skirt and jacket, and a red tam o shanter represented Robert Burns. He read the life of this famous Scotch poet, written by Gertrude Gutzler. Then the tenth and eleventh grades marched on the stage and sang two of Robert Burns' famous songs: "Auld Lang Syne" and "Comin' Tro the Rye." After these songs Earl Worley dressed in the ecstume of an eighteenth century Englishman, with a large purple ruffle around his neck, and large silver buckles on his shoes, read the life of Ben Jonson; written by Margaret Elliott. The eights and ninth grade then sang a song written by Jonson. "To Celia" better known as "Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes."

Iva Lee Clark, draped with an American flag, read the life of Francis Scott Key. All the English classes then sang the "Star Spangled Banner" with the chapel assembly standing at attention.

This program was educationl and entertaining. Miss Tarkington showed clever originality in planning it.

Mr. Samuel, who has been in the Thorndale Public School for three years, has been re-elected as superintendent for next school year. Having taken the place of the very capable man, H. M. Roark who is now faithfully discharging his duties as county clerk. Mr. Samuel feels that he owes much to the patrons of Thorndale for their co-operation which has made his success possible.

RELIEF WAS PERMANENT SAYS MRS. McFARLAND

"I CAN CERTAINLY VOUCH FOR TANLAC BEING A WONDERFUL MEDICINE," SHE SAYS.

People who are having health troubles may buy Tanlac on the assurance of more than 100,000 well known men and women who have publicly testified to the splendid results they have derived from its use.

Furthermore, they may buy Tanlac on its record for producing not only immediate, but lasting results. For thousands of people who recovered their health one, two, three, and even seven and eight years ago by the use of Tanlac are now testifying daily that they are "still strong and well."

Offering her experience as further evidence of the wonderful health-giving and health-preserving properties of Tanlas, Mrs. S. W. McFarland, a prominent Dallas, Texas, woman, residing at 3935 Tremont, St. says:

"I don't know anything better I could say for Tanlac than that I am still enjoying the splendid health it brought me several years ago. For years I had suffered from loss of appetite, rheumatism in my knee and shoulder, extreme nervousness and lack of sleep.

"Finally a druggist recommended Tanlac and when I began taking it I was in such a condition physically that I was scarcely able to be up and about. After a few weeks use of Tanlac my troubles disappeared, my weight increased 20 lbs. and I found my health and strength fully restored. I certainly can vouch for Tanlac being a wonderful medicine and tonic."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

A TALK WITH A CAMERON MAN.

Mr. Mitchell Tells Something of interest to Cameron Folks.

There's nothing more convincing than the statement of someone you know and have confidence in. That's why this talk with Mr. Mitchell of E. Fifteenth street, should be mighty helpful here in Cameron.

M. W. Mitchell, retired farmer, 503 E. Fifteenth street, says: "My kidneys were out of order and I had weakness across my back. The kidney secretions annoyed me by their irregular passage, at times too free and then again scanty. Very often the secretions contained brick-dust-like sediment. Doan's Pills soon relieved me of all symptoms of kidney complaint."

OVER FOUR YEARS LATER, Mr. Mitchell added: "I feel just as kindly toward Doan's now as when I endorsed them before."

THE RECITAL AT YOE HIGH.

The stage was beautifully decorated with flowers and ferns. Pillows were placed on the floor and the smaller children sat on these. There were twenty-five numbers on the program which consisted of primo selections and readings.

BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA.

The boys met at the court house. They had intended to go to Sugar Loaf Mountain but the weather would not permit any such plans.

Some of the boys went with Mr. Terry to Wilson-Leubetter Park. Others stayed at the court house and afterwards went to the American Legion Hall to watch the boxing match. All the boys had a good time and came home at about 9 o'clock.

NEW GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

The citizens of Cameron should realize the importance of a new Grammar school or a Junior High, for the lives of the young people in this town are in great danger in the old building.

The new section of the school is not only poorly furnished and lighted but it is likely to collapse any time.

Some say that they went to school in this building; that it was good enough for them and that it is good enough for us. Besides, it would cost too much to build a new one, but weigh the question carefully. If you went to school in it, it is old enough to fall, and would it not be cheaper to build a safe school than endanger the lives of the children who attend school at this building?

Working toward this end, several contractors have visited the school during the past week. Prominent among these were William B. Ittner of St. Louis and R. F. Dewitt of the firm of Dewitt and Lemmon of Dallas.

Plans have not been made public as yet but some definite steps must surely have been taken.

THE KINDERGARDEN PLAY.

Thursday night May 15th Miss Sallie Kate McLane will give a play entitled "Pageant of Spring." The first grade is working hard with the kindergarden children. The play is very interesting and the little children are doing their best. Certain little girls will represent months and seasons and others will dance. Some of the boys are going to be dressed like sailors and soldiers.

Everyone is looking forward to this play with pleasure.

Story of Milam County Abstract Company a Chronicle of History

There was a time in the great Southwest when land could be had for the asking. Immense principalities were given away. A league—forty-four hundred and twenty-eight acres—was bestowed upon each settler who was the head of a family. What matter if these old headright leagues were all surveyed out to contain more land than even the generous State of Texas had intended to convey? Land was our cheapest asset; it literally was not worth anything.

Men heard the call of adventure, the call of conquest, the call of civilization, and came to Texas; to carve an empire from its raw materials. The towns and cities were built, the farms and ranches were reduced to possession. Those prairies, hu valleys that once were free to the taker now became rich prizes. Our cheapest asset became one of our most valuable. The land had come into its own.

With civilization came avarice, and land, more than gold, has fed that unholy passion throughout the ages. The early settlers had not been careful in safeguarding the title to their lands, and there came to flourish in Texas a breed of men known as "land sharks." These men resorted to every known trickery to despoil the pioneers of their holdings, and it is said that almost every one of the older counties had one or more court house fires as a result of their activities. When the records were burned the honest men were at the mercy thieves, for in those days abstracts of title were unknown, and the "land sharks" filed suit for their victims' land and went into court with forged deeds.

Since that day, however, the system and practice of abstracting land titles has been developed and perfected, until now the burning of the court house in any county that has an up to date abstract plant would have little or no effect on titles. In many counties the deed records could be almost instantly duplicated from the books of the local abstract companies. Milam county is one of those counties, and is exceedingly fortunate in having its records thoroughly indexed, digested, and in many respects absolutely duplicated in the fine plant of the Milam County Abstract Company, one of Cameron's oldest businesses.

The Milam County Abstract Company had its beginning in the late Sixties, when C. R. Smith made an abstract of the county's deed records. Mr. Smith was the father of Mrs. E. A. Wallace and Mrs. J. G. Vest, and was Milam County's representative in the Constitutional Convention of 1876. The abstract made by Mr. Smith is now in possession of the Milam County Abstract Company, and reveals many interesting sidelights on history. It covers all of Milam County, and partly covers the old Milam Land District, showing titles from the Gulf to Red River. Many entries refer to lands in Dallas, Coke, Hill, Ellis and other North Texas counties.

It is fortunate that this old abstract was made, for the court house was burned on April 9th, 1874, and all the old records destroyed. It is said that the fire was of incendiary origin and was started by a group of land forgers for the purpose of destroying the evidence of their crimes. If it were not for the existence of this old abstract of the burned records it would be impossible for many of the owners of our finest lands to trace their titles back to the State, which is necessary to show an absolutely clear title.

After the courthouse fire the new records were abstracted as they were made, so that the company has a complete abstract of all Milam County records from beginning to end. A large part of the work in this, as in all modern abstract plants, consists in keeping the records abstracted up to date, so that The Milam County Abstract Company has in effect a duplicate set of records, and a court house fire would probably not cast a cloud upon a single land title in the county.

The present Milam County Abstract Company was incorporated by T. S. Henderson on Feb. 14, 1901, and Mr. Henderson is still President of the Company, while Miss Annie Stalworth is Secretary and manager. Miss Stalworth has occupied that position for the past seventeen years, and it is due to her tireless energy and constant study of the abstract business that this company's plant has been brought to its present high state of efficiency. Miss Stalworth goes each year to the convention of the Texas Abstractors Association, and brings home new ideas for the betterment of her plant. Her long experience in the business has made her one of the finest and most widely known abstracters in the state.

Miss Stalworth's assistants, Miss Theresa Jensen and John B. Henderson, have been with the company for fourteen and five years, respectively. All three say that abstracting is a lifetime job.

The Milam County Abstract Company occupies the entire second floor of the Henderson building on the northeast corner of the square. The plant is one of the most complete in the state, including abstracts of all the records of the County and District Clerk's offices, indexes, card catalogues, typewriters, blue-print and mapmaking machines, and exact copies of most of the deed records, in fact, everything necessary to make an up to date abstract of any title in Milam County.

"An abstract," says Miss Stalworth, "is like a woman's mirror. It shows things as they are, the blemishes as well as the beauties. It is like a merchant's inventory. It shows exactly what you have, no more and no less. It is not a guarantee that your title is good, but it tells you whether your title is good or not, and shows you what defects there may be, so that you can have your title perfected and forestall lawsuits that may endanger your home. It is a history of the title to your land, from the time it was granted by the State of Texas to the pioneer who settled it, down through those who purchased or inherited it, and on to the present owner. If there be a dark page in that history, the abstract will show it, and you can have the cloud removed."

Miss Stalworth's motto is, "If your property is worth paying for, it is worth abstracting."

Another phase of the abstract work that has grown in volume during the past few years, is map-making. Due to the recent oil discoveries in Milam County, maps of the county and of various sections are very much in demand, and The Milam County Abstract Company is prepared to furnish all kinds of maps. The maps of the Minerva Oil Field, in addition to the property lines, show leases, wells pipe-lines, etc.

Abstracts of Title THE ANCHOR OF AMERICAN HOMES

Know That Your Title Is Unassailable

There is Safety in Good Titles

You don't trade horses "sight unseen." You don't buy goods without knowing just what you are getting. The old adage "Don't buy a pig in a poke," is particularly applicable to the man who buys land. The land is there, and you may think you see what you are buying; but you don't see the title when you look at the land.

There is only one way in which you may know that the title to your home in good and that is through the medium of title examination. And the only way in which your title can be properly examined is to have it abstracted by a competent abstracter.

Proper abstracting depends upon three things, experience, sources of information, adequate equipment.

Make sure the abstracter has these three qualifications before you trust the security of your home to him.

If it is Worth Paying for it is Worth Abstracting 'Don't Buy a Pig in the Poke.'
